BREVITIES

W. L. Robbins was absent this week on a business visit to Portland.

A wrenched knee is teaching Homer Hedrick how it feels to be a cripple.

Milt Swaggart was in town yesterday on business from his Baker, Oregon, farm.

I am prepared to receive boarders and to serve regular meals.
Mrs. Laura Shanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warren left Sunday for Cold Springs, where Harry will follow agricultural pursuits.

All those knowing themselves to be indebted to me will please call and settle, as I am about to retire from business. E. E. Zehm.

Lewis Geiss came up yesterday from his ranch near Pendleton, renewed his Leader sub. and transacted other business of lesser importance.

A son was born September 18, 1918, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G.
Phelps at their home in Newport, Oregon. Mrs. Phelps was formerly Miss Nellie Nelson.

James Wyrick, a prominent and popular young farmer of Pendleton, was killed Saturday night when his car turned over while going down a grade on the Tutuilla. He was a native of Umatilla county, born in 1883.

In renewing his Leader, which goes to Halfway, Oregon, Fred Comstock speaks in enthusiastic terms of that bawliwick and advises the editor to go there. He neglects, however, to send the wherewithal to travel on, and we have no pass over McAdoo's lines.

Pearl, the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Davis, was operated upon Tuesday at Pendleton for appendicitis, by Drs. Parker and McKinney. Although just recovered from typhoid she rallied nicely and her present condition is encouraging. She is in St.
Anthony's hospital, where her mother is at her bedside.

The regular annual election of Epworth League officers will take place at the regular monthly business meeting of the league to be held in the Methodist church Friday evening, October 4. All Leaguers, church folk and friends are requested to be present, for we always have a good time at these business meetings. By order of the president.

The new owners of the Weston meat market, A. W. Sauer and William Hass, have taken charge of the business and report themselves to be well pleased with their location and prospects here. Mr.
Sauer's family is still in Aberdeen, but will join him later. The new firm will not only handle such livestock as they can use on the block, but expect to buy for the market. They will devote special attention to sausage making.

Mrs. Charles E. Clark, formerly Miss Ferol McBride, is here from Seattle for a visit at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Fannie Mc-Bride. She spent the summer in Alaska, as her husband is a marine engineer and serves on a steamer plying between Seattle and Alaskan ports. Mrs. Clark was among the most popular students of Weston High, of which she is a graduate. When married, she lacked only six months of completing the course in nursing at Providence hospital, Seattle.

Rev. S. E. Powell and G. W.
Winn were recent visitors at the home of Rev. N. D. Wood near Redmond, Central Oregon. They enjoyed a hunting trip while there and Mr. Powell brought down his first buck, a splendid deer of the mule type which dressed 300 pounds. He feels not a little elated, as other members of the party were not so fortunate, but is not prepared as yet to relinquish the pulpit for the rifle. The pilgrims were also privileged to enjoy the finest kind of fishing, and returned home in buoyant spirits.

After anointing his clothes with gasoline Jack C. Jenkins mounted a horse Saturday at the Pendleton Round Up and set fire to himself, his idea being that the speed of the horse would keep the fire away from his body in a daredevil fire ride. The horse refused to run, and blazing from head to foot Jenkins jumped or fell from the animal. Before the flames could be smothered he was fatally burned and died the next morning. The stunt was unauthorized by the Round Up management, which knew nothing about it until too late to interfere. Jenkins left a wife and child.

THE RED CROSS

There was an increase in attendance at the meetings this week, but more workers are needed. Everyone is cordially invited to come and assist in the work.

In the near future, the date to be announced later, a linen shower will be held at the work rooms for the benefit of the hospitals in France. At this time donations of bath and hand towels, napkins, handkerchiefs and sheets will be gratefully received.

Committees have been busy the past week soliciting wearing apparel for refugee needs. Contributions will be received Friday afternoon at the Red Cross rooms, and collectors will also be around on Saturday morning for large bundles.

Everyone is urged to conserve all tin foil, collapsible tubes, pewter articles, fruit pits and nut shells; these materials will be gathered at a later date.
